

Their commitment includes to:

- Act honestly, with no misleading, deceptive or coercive conduct
- Respect Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander cultural practices and artist rights
- Ensure that every commercial dealing with an artist involves their informed consent
- Have clearly explained artist agreements in place, which meet the standards outlined in the Code
- Encourage artists to get independent advice before signing any agreements

Buying art ethically starts here...

indigenousartcode.org

Australian Government
Indigenous Visual Arts Industry Support

BHP

Look for Indigenous Art Code Signatory Members when buying your next Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander artwork, or products that feature licensed artwork.

These businesses have demonstrated their commitment to artists by becoming signatories to the Indigenous Art Code: a voluntary Code of Conduct for fair, transparent and ethical trade with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander visual artists.

Indigenous Art Code works with Artist, Code Signatory and Code Supporter Members across Australia and internationally, to support fair, transparent and ethical trade with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander visual artists.

Cover image: Kuru Gladys Bidu with her painting Linyji
2025 acrylic on canvas 46 x 76cm.
Photo by Dave Wells

© Gladys Bidu/Copyright Agency, 2025

Find an Indigenous
Art Code Member
near you

